The training was neither a teaching nor a learning program. Instead it was GD based solution search brain storming session to find solutions to the issues related with the mission. The environment and ambience was quite refreshing and energizing. It helped in having a healthy and creative discussion. The conclusion points derived out of the above discussions are quite impressive and hence must be implemented. The true benefit and success of having this program lies in the implementation of them in its true spirit and follow up.

While the session was excellent with discussions moderated by their highly experienced faculties, it was equally rewarding to them. They got abundant inputs, infos and knowledge about the mission which otherwise could be gathered only with an year's field efforts.
