

Making an Impact @ 400!

'Making an Impact' Article Series has reached its 400th episode today. It is not about the number of articles. Instead, we are happy that we could present this much information about Kudumbashree before the public. We are happy that we could publish development communication possible through this article series. Let me express our happiness for being able to move forward receiving insights and suggestions from the readers.

Out of the 400 articles published until now, 392 are available on the Kudumbashree website, in this page- <https://www.kudumbashree.org/pages/183> . Out of this, page design and layout has been completed for 350 and they are uploaded. This will also be available on this page. Rest of the articles will be uploaded in this page once the page design is completed. Let me once again thank you all for the support you had extended for our efforts.
